

Anastasiya Kanapelka

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

PROFILE INFO

My hobby for programming has become my passion.

And now I'm ready to change my life and develop in the direction of programming.

I'm ready to develop and quickly absorb information. I know what I want and go for it.

My previous experience suggests that I am definitely not afraid of difficulties and I definitely will not be at a loss in any situation.

My experience of providing assistant training helps me to realistically assess early career situations and the challenges a young professional may face.

I am firmly on my feet, I have no ghostly illusions, but nevertheless I am ready to risk everything and start everything from the very beginning.

I believe in myself, so it remains for someone else to believe in me for everything to work out.

CONTACTS

My portfolio:

<https://redhead2022.github.io/portfolio/>

GitHub:

<https://github.com/redhead2022>

Telegram:

<https://t.me/iamnk1988>

Linkedin:

<linkedin.com/in/anastasiya-kanapelka>

EDUCATION

2006 - 2011

BSEU (Belarus) Bachelor of Laws

22.11.2021 - 28.03.2022

Codegirl School HTML, CSS

22.11.2021 - 28.03.2022

CanSheCode JavaScript

2022 - now

Redev

SKILLS

HTML

CSS

SCSS

SASS

JS

GSAP

Figma

Git

GitHub

React (in process)

TypeScript (in progress)

WordPress (in progress)

LANGUAGES

Russian - native

Polish - B1+ (in progress)

English - A2+ (in progress)

EXPERIENCE

2020-now Senior Legal Counsel | The international transport company (Belarus)

During the pandemic and the closure of borders, the imposition of sanctions and a ban on a number of directions, cargo, our team quickly made non-standard decisions:

- expanding the geography of counterparties;

- change of routes for the export of sanctioned cargo;

- change in the direction of transportation due to the ban by some states, for example, air travel, etc.

In parallel, she conducted training on her subject for new employees.

At the same time, given the high workload, it was decided to hire an assistant:

- conducted direct selection of candidates;

- developed a training plan and subsequently trained an assistant according to it;

- weekly meetings for feedback, etc.

Daily work (contract proofreading, claims work, etc.) is associated with a careful study of documentation and scrupulous work with details, which can be useful regardless of the field of activity.

2016-2020 Legal Counsel | The international transport company (Belarus)

Every day in logistics is an adventure. Especially in Belarus.

Today everything can be quiet, but tomorrow the cargo can be stolen or, for example, you need to look for a counterparty with a debt abroad.

Today everything is quiet, but tomorrow it is necessary to redo all the contracts, because legislation has changed beyond recognition.

But in any case, the main part of the work is negotiations (negotiation of the contract, resolution of disputes with the cargo, delay due to unexpected restrictions on the input of cargo, etc.).

Plus, these are negotiations with our own managers, because we need to explain to everyone why we cannot start working with a client because of what legal norms.

My motto in work and in life is to negotiate!

2014-2016 Legal Counsel | The international transport company (Poland)

I made the decision to relocate on my own, because I saw perspective in this.

I had no experience in this area, so I studied with a senior lawyer. Then I realized how definitely I would not teach other guys whom I would take as my assistants.

During my stay in Poland, I improved the Polish language to a conversational level.

Plus I made documents for indefinite permanent residence.

For family reasons, it was decided to return to Minsk. Just by that time, a vacancy for a lawyer had become vacant in the Minsk office. I accepted the offer and returned to Belarus.

I consider working in Poland a very interesting experience that left only positive emotions, so now I am not afraid of moving to another country in case of a good job